Your installation checklist...

Make sure to do the following prior to your installation appointment.

Room Selection - Pick the room(s) where you'd like to watch DIRECTV programming.

TV Access - Move your television away from the wall to help the installer reach the connections.

Appointment Duration - Set aside 2 to 4 hours to be at home so the installer has time to connect your system and give you a simple demonstration.

Presence of an Adult - Make sure someone over 18 is home to sign the installation documents when the installer is finished.

Clear Roof Access - Make sure your roof or balcony has easy access for the installer.

Broadband Internet Access - If you have ordered the DIRECTV CINEMA™ Connection Kit, make sure you have an Internet connection of speeds 750 Kbps or higher, and a router with available Ethernet port. For Wireless Internet Connection Kits, make sure you have a wireless router, and an available wall outlet nearby.

Property Management Approval - If you live in an apartment or are part of a homeowners' association, check with your landlord or management company about regulations for installing television service. You may need to fill out a Landlord Permission Form.
