"16 CFR Part 424-
Retail Food Store
Advertising Rule,
Project No. P104203."

To Whom It May Concern;

Yes, the bait-and-switch tactic is uncalled for. I have experienced it at Walmart, Mjiers, Kroger and many drug stores, etc. I have never been offered a rain check on the items I went to purchase.

I can partly resort to deliveries not being on time, but have not been told that. There should be some restrictions on the stores to be upheld to the items they post.

I would vote for any law that would make them to abide by.

Thank you,
