NutriMost Resonant Frequency Technology is a scientific breakthrough that allows the body to communicate its needs without any guessing. Using galvanic skin response, the technology sends specific messages to the body and monitors the physiochemical response. Comparisons to the baseline allow for analysis to determine biological preferences, biomarkers out of range, and areas in which the body may be weak or imbalanced. Dr. Ray Wisniewski, a certified author for NRF, has written four of the most advanced scans ever developed. He is known as THE Weight Loss Answerman and has utilized his more than 30 years of clinical experience to author the NutriMost

Ultimate Fat Loss System. It took him many months to program the specific bio-survey and analysis that is performed with NRF technology.
