

Dear Sirs,

I am writing you at this time as have just learned of the new rule that you are considering. I am referring to Rule:R511993 designated "Business Opportunity rule. I understand the reasoning behind said rule. But the regulations in this rule would put an undo burden on replicable business operators in the home business community. It does you no good to crush the same people you are trying to protect. And furthermore please consider the consequences of this rule! Many of these homeowners are in business to try to make ends meet. Specifically to keep food on the table and their families provided for in these times of rising costs! So please don't hurt American families! The scam artists won't be bothered by this rule, they just move on start all over again at another location. So in conclusion it's your decision to make! But please do the right thing America's families are depending on you.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter.

Sincerely

Yours

John Ames Burke
