

My Concerns,

I strongly oppose Suppression Lists as they will in no way prevent spam and will harm legitimate businesses running opt-in lists that play by the rules.

I strongly support any laws designed to prohibit spam and thus support the CAN-SPAM Act.

THIS WORKS:

If a party does not want Email, they can install a program that requires the sender to click a link and register for permission to email the party. SPAM COMPANIES WONT TAKE THE TIME!

THIS IS YOUR TARGET-

I receive 6 -20 emails a day that have no physical address or cannot be replied to. And I do realize that when I can remove myself from a list, maybe 20% may have remove info, 1/2 of that is a bad link.

I may remove myself from Joe's widget's for sale list, but Mary has me on her widget's for sale list. Having Joe send in a copy of his removal list to the widget's co. and Mary cross referencing it before she emails to her list is not the answer.

Thanks,

Jack Wallace
