

I would like to express my strong support of the contact lens ruling requiring physicians to provide patients with copies of their contact lens prescriptions. I had an experience with an Ophthalmologist several years ago in which he refused to provide me with a copy of my contact lens prescription. He had an optical shop in his medical practice and I was only able to purchase my contact lenses from him at a significantly higher cost than where I had purchased them from previously. This new law will not allow him, and many others, continue this unfair practice. Thank you for looking out for the consumers.
