

Dear Commissioners,

As a consumer who greatly benefits from the ability to purchase contact lense for myself and two sons at a discount online I would like to urge the Commission to pass the new law guaranteeing me this right. The contacts I receive from the online vendor are exactly like those dispensed by my doctor except they cost half as much as the doctor charges me. With the rising costs of healthcare it seems counter intuitive to burden the American public with a an expense that is unnecessary.

Thank you for your consideration.

Susan K. Reardon

Executive Director
American Foreign Service Association

DC