Subject: contact lens prescription rule

I am sending this email as a contact lens wearer to tell you I support this rule requiring eye doctors to provide patients with their contact lens prescription once you have paid for a contact lens exam and fitting

None of the eye doctors I have ever been to can match the prices of contact lens wholesalers and I feel in America where capitalism reigns supreme I should have the right to go out and check prices with any available competitor to find the lowest available price.

At my last eye exam I was not freely given my prescription but now that I know about this legislation this will not happen again.
