Hello -

I am writing with regards to the new Contact Lens Law. As a contact lens wearer and a user who buys online, I would like to state that I definitely support this new law.

The Contact Lens Law allows me to purchase my contact lens anytime from any vendor as opposed to only a single vendor who is routinely not the lowest price.

I realize that not all online vendors are legitimate and/or have their consumers' best interest in mind all the time. However, I believe that the consumer has some responsibility to recognize a reputable online vendor as opposed to simply buying from an online vendor who may have cut rate prices. The old saying - you get what you pay for rings true with online purchases.

Having purchased many items online from various vendors, I have always have superior service and terrific products at a reasonable price. I routinely buy from 1800contacts online and receive a good product. In addition, it is convenient to buy - anytime and shipped right to my home. This particular important considering how busy our family is these days.

I also recognize that the eye doctor's who provide my lens prescription need to make a living as well. So out of common courtesy, I typically buy at least one box of contacts from them, but then I get my prescription from them and buy online subsequently. This seems to work best.

Thanks
