

From:
Sent: Friday, March 05, 2004 8:05 PM
To: CONTACTLENSRULE
Subject: Fairness to Contact Lens Consumers Act of 2003

Congress -

I believe that the Fairness to Contact Lens Consumers Act of 2003 provides a fair and just exchange for business services rendered.

Why should contact users be held hostage and allow greedy doctors to nickle and dime users to oblivian?

There is no additional service provided after the exam...period. The entire American Capital System is based on competition and if users can get their lenses from alternate providers (by having a prescription on hand), then that is AMERICAN. And, not to put too fine a point on this.....greedy doctors do not make good doctors. If there focus was on quality services (and , not the WalMart version), consumers might get there eyes changed more regularly...thus, no need to nicle and dime the public.

Thank you,
Jasper J. Adamson Jr.