

From:

Sent: Friday, March 05, 2004 11:32 AM

To: CONTACTLENSRULE; 1-800CONTACTS@1800contacts.com

Subject: Fairness to Contact Lens Consumers Act of 2003

It is important for the Federal Trade Commission to support the Fairness to Contact Lens Consumers Act of 2003, it is a citizens right to have his practioner provide him with his prescription at no extra cost, as part of an eye examination or treatment for which he has been paid. I want the right to purchase my contact lens's from whomever I wish, I do not want to be restricted to purchasing them from the doctor. This is for economic as well as convenience reasons.

Robert Scheuer

CT.