

From: Tim Misch
Sent: Wednesday, March 17, 2004 9:12 PM
To: CONTACTLENSRULE
Subject: I prefer to get my contact lenses via the web in less time, delivered to my home!!

Federal Trade Commission,

I wish to be able to order contact lenses from my home, over the internet, and to be delivered to my home. I do not want this privilege to be taken away from me. I have been doing this for 5 years now, and it is great.

I get my lenses faster than my eye doctor can provide them, and they are cheaper. Why would you create laws that would dig into my pockets more than they are already being dug into? Why would you take away the right to get contact lenses the fastest way possible without waiting for some doctor to put my order through who isn't available to me 24 hrs a day?

Is it because those doctor's have lobbyists? Is it because they've seen some of their profits go away due to competition and free enterprise. Aren't competition and free enterprise the hallmarks of capitalism and the American Way? What's the average eye doctor's salary anyway? I bet they are doing just fine. If you pass these laws, what will prevent these doctor's from price fixing?

So, please, support capitalism, free trade, & free enterprise. Don't take away my right to buy contacts quickly and cheaply from whoever can sell them the fastest and cheapest. It's the AMERICAN way!

Tim Misch