Subject: No to proposed "wait for lenses" law!

Federal Trade Commission

To whom it may concern,

I for one oppose the proposed rule that could make me wait days to order my lenses. I like the option of next day delivery if I tear a lens and need an immediate replacement. I like purchasing my lenses online for a lower price instead of being overcharged by whatever vision store the eye doctor works in. Unless you want more people driving the streets who can't see very well, I suggest you do away with this foolish proposal. Melissa Yunger
