

Comment # 815

From: Higgins Family
Sent: Sunday, March 21, 2004 8:05 PM
To: CONTACTLENSRULE
Subject: Contact Lens Rule, Project No. R411002

How many rules does the government intend to pass in order to legally mandate common sense behavior in such incredibly complicated ways. I am almost getting used to HIPPA and think I may be able to avoid the $80,000 fine with another week or two's study of the lengthy text. The lawyers required to effect these laws is one reason 40% of the GNP goes to the government to "help" us. It won't be long before a backlash occurs that will put the Libertarians in power; at least that is my sincere wish. It seems like Corporate crime escalates with each rulemaking step to stop it.

J. David Higgins OD, PhD
Maine