

From: diana.walsworth
Sent: Thursday, March 25, 2004 12:10 PM
To: CONTACTLENSRULE
Subject: Contact Lens Rule

It is not fair for eye doctors to charge a premium for contact lens. I prefer to shop around for contact lens. I have been using 800-contacts for years and I have been very happy with the service and prices.

If I ask my eye doctor for a copy of my prescription, I should not have to explain why, nor be denied the request.

Give us consumers a break. I am tired of eye doctors, dentists and medical doctors charging premiums for care. If we have the opportunity to get prescriptions somewhere cheaper, are rights should not be denied.

Thank you.

Diana Walsworth