Subject: contact lens rule

Dear Sir,

I would like to express my support of the Contact Lens Consumers Act as a wearer of both glasses and contact lenses. You are probably aware of the varying prices for these items which can be substantially different. A few years ago, I did have an experience with an optometrist who examined me for both glasses and contacts but would not release my prescription for the contact lenses that he wanted me to purchase, even though I was purchasing my glasses with him. This was extremely upsetting as I personally do not have any type of insurance coverage for these items and at that time his prices were very high to me. I do appreciate the convenience of purchasing my contacts on-line which are the same lenses that my eye doctor would provide to me but at a higher cost.

Thank you for your time,

Donna Clark
