I, wholeheartedly, support the new Contact Lens Law.

I feel it is, clearly, the right action to take; especially, for the thousands of people in my situation, or worse.

I am, somewhat, well now but haven't always been. I was bedridden for a year and a half due to a totally bad leg.

When I was out of bed - to eat or use the bathroom - I walked on crutches and one leg. Ordering my contacts and other commodities through the internet was a God-send. I know there are other people who are worse off than I or are trying to make ends meet. Being able to buy contacts at a lower price and have them shipped to their house is very important.

Sincerely,

Don Tyer
