Subject: Credit Scoring and Credit Reports

I truly beleive this industry is the worst thing to happen to America. These people are leaches and will put something on your credit 4 or five times when it is the exact same information and they get away with it. I am once again working on mine because there are things I have never heard of on ours. My husband was even listed as using his own social security number and then another one to. How rediculous is that. I hope someday the govenments see what these people do to our lives not to mention Im paying 832.00 per month for insurance because of my reports and can do nothing to get this money back when I get it all straightened out in 3 to 4 years..

Hopeless
