Subject: Using Credit Scores as an excuse to increase auto premiums

Importance: High

I was recently targeted with an increase of auto insurance premium(even though I have been a safe responsible driver for over 39 years(no tickets,etc for over 15 years)

I believe this is unfair to penalize a person for(credit scores)in which our credit was pulled without our consent a few times thus lowering our score.

Please update me on any and all information regarding these matters.

Sincerley,
