Please make spyware like Microsoft Passport, Real Player, and other unrequested spyware illegal. It is an invasion of my privacy. Many companies try to use it to watch my activities. It takes time to watch out for and stop them. There is no justifiable reason for a company to do it. Most sell the information to spam houses, which also takes away my time to fight them.

I find it interesting that there even would be a need to send this email. Just find me one person who wants this on their computer, give that person the ability to opt-in and make all the rest illegal if it isn't already.
