To Whom it may concern,

The growing problem of adware and spyware should be of utmost concern to those lawmakers who regulate the Internet. These so-called companies invade the privacy of the public. We are indeed not consumers, we are victims of unscrupulous 'business' practices. I respect the right of free enterprise, naturally, but unsolicited invasion of my privacy is NOT free enterprise. Quick action is paramount in this growing problem. Please, let reason prevail rather than tactics from high-paid lawyers/lobbyists.

Kind Regards
