

Scott Stallings

Mon 5/17/2004

To whom it may concern,

If the ftc can not restrict the use of spy ware then the federal government should pass a law stating that any computer owner that finds spy ware on the PC can send a bill (for storage and hard drive space) to the company that placed the spyware/adware on the PC in question.

Scott Stallings