

Dan Forrester

Thu 5/20/2004 5:25 PM

I work in the business of Tech Support and Computer Repair and I beg you to allow Spyware and Adware based advertising to continue unrestrained. See, 90% of the business I have deals with the removal of Spyware and Adware from users computers. In fact from time to time i will work on a machine that will no longer boot because of the "value added" software that has inadvertently been installed.

If this type of activity is banned then I could lose my job. The majority of my customers would have functional PCs and therefore would have no need of my services.