

Me2

Fri 5/21/2004 11:18 AM

To Whom It May Concern:

Just one question: where does it end? Leave the door open for adware/spyware on the internet and it won't be too long before telemarketers and other advertising leeches decide that our phone calls, tv viewing, and who knows what else, is fair game for monitoring.

Not possible? Consider the problem before you now. A bit over twenty years ago this situation would only be possible in some sci-fi author's imagination.

Think about it, please!

M. J. Merrick

ID