INTRODUCTION

Leading Data Contributors

The Consumer Sentinel Network (CSN) is a secure online database of millions of consumer complaints available only to law enforcement. In addition to storing complaints received by the FTC, the CSN also includes complaints filed with the Internet Crime Complaint Center, Better Business Bureaus, the Canadian Anti-Fraud Centre, the U.S. Postal Inspection Service, the Identity Theft Assistance Center, and the National Fraud Information Center, among others. This year, we also began receiving complaints from the North Carolina Department of Justice, the Idaho and Mississippi Attorneys General, the Minnesota Department of Public Safety, the Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights, the Center for Democracy and Technology, Publishers Clearing House, MoneyGram International and PrivacyStar.

Law enforcement partners --- whether they are down the street, across the nation, or around the world --- can use information in the database to enhance and coordinate investigations. Upgraded features make searching complaints more efficient.

Begun in 1997 to collect fraud and identity theft complaints, the CSN now has more than 6.1 million complaints, including those about credit reports, debt collection, mortgages, and lending, among other subjects. The CSN has a five-year data retention policy; complaints older than five years are purged biannually. Between January and December 2010, the CSN received more than 1.3 million consumer complaints. Over 725,000 complaints were fraud-related; fourteen percent of these fraud-related complaints were identified as cross-border. The following are a series of statistical reports from the CSN database presenting information about cross-border fraud-related complaints. For the purposes of this report, a fraud complaint is cross-border if: (1) a U.S. consumer complained about a company located in Canada or another foreign country; (2) a Canadian consumer complained about a company located in the U.S. or another foreign country; or (3) a consumer from a foreign country complained about a company located in the U.S. or Canada. Company location is based on addresses reported by the complaining consumers and, thus, likely understates the number of cross-border complaints. In some instances the company address provided by the consumer actually may be a mail drop in the consumer's country rather than the physical location of the company in a foreign country, and in other cases, the consumer does not know whether the location is in the U.S. or abroad.

Some organizations transfer their complaints to CSN after the end of the calendar year, and as a result, the total number of complaints for 2010 will increase in a few months. For the same reason, totals from previous years may differ from prior CSN annual reports.

The 2010 Cross-Border Fraud Complaints Report is based on unverified complaints reported by consumers. The data is not based on a consumer survey.

Law enforcement personnel may join CSN at Register.ConsumerSentinel.gov. For more information about the CSN, visit www.FTC.gov/sentinel.

Appendix A1: The Consumer Sentinel Network

The Consumer Sentinel Network is a free, online database of consumer complaints available only to law enforcement. It includes complaints about identity theft, fraud, financial transactions, debt collection, credit reports, and Spam, among other subjects. The Consumer Sentinel Network is based on the premise that sharing information can make law enforcement even more effective. To that end, the Consumer Sentinel Network provides law enforcement members with access to consumer complaints provided directly to the FTC, as well as to complaints shared by other data contributors.

The Identity Theft Data Clearinghouse was launched in November 1999 and is the sole national repository of consumer complaints about identity theft. The Clearinghouse provides specific investigative material for law enforcement and broader reports that provide insight to both private and public sector partners on ways to reduce the incidence of identity theft. Information in the Clearinghouse is available to law enforcement members via the Consumer Sentinel Network. This access enables law enforcers to readily spot local identity theft problems and to coordinate with other law enforcement officers where the data reveals common schemes or perpetrators.

Econsumer.gov was created in April 2001 to gather and share cross-border e-commerce complaints to respond to the challenges of multinational Internet fraud, and enhance consumer confidence in e-commerce. Through econsumer.gov, consumers can file cross-border consumer complaints online and learn about alternative ways to resolve them. All information is available in English, French, German, Japanese, Korean, Polish, and Spanish. Using the existing Consumer Sentinel Network, the incoming complaints are shared through the government Website with participating consumer protection law enforcers from 25 nations.

Consumer Sentinel/Military, which was established in September 2002, is a project of the Federal Trade Commission and the Department of Defense to identify and target consumer protection issues that affect members of the United States Armed Forces and their families. Consumer Sentinel/Military also provides a gateway to consumer education materials covering a wide range of consumer protection issues, such as auto leasing, identity theft, and work-at-home scams. Members of the United States Armed Forces can enter complaints directly into Consumer Sentinel. This information is used by law enforcement agencies, members of the Judge Advocate General staff, and other Department of Defense personnel to help protect armed services members and their families from consumer protection-related problems.
