DOCKET NO. 9395

COMPLAINT COUNSEL’S MOTION TO CERTIFY TO THE COMMISSION A REQUEST SEEKING COURT ENFORCEMENT OF A SUBPOENA DUCES TECUM
ISSUED TO PLATINUM PLUS PRINTING, LLC

Pursuant to the Federal Trade Commission’s Rules of Practice 16 C.F.R. §§3.22 and 3.38, Complaint Counsel respectfully move the Court to certify to the Commission a request for enforcement of a subpoena duces tecum issued to Platinum Plus Printing, LLC (“PPP”) with the recommendation that district court enforcement be sought. PPP has demonstrated a complete disregard for the administrative process, refusing to produce any responsive material to date, ignoring Complaint Counsel’s efforts to meet and confer, and effectively flouting the Court’s November 20 Order and the Commission Rules.

I. Background

Complaint Counsel served a subpoena on PPP on September 10. Widor Decl., Ex. A. The evidence shows that PPP was assisting Respondents in executing their deceptive advertising and marketing, including the dissemination of one of the COVID-19 mailers cited in the Complaint. Id., ¶ 7 and Ex. E; Compl. Ex. A-C. Responses were due October 10. PPP sent a letter response on October 13, making numerous general objections that lacked support. Widor Decl., Ex. B. PPP did not produce any documents. Id., ¶ 4.

Complaint Counsel repeatedly attempted to meet and confer with PPP to reach agreement on a reasonable production schedule. See id., Ex. C. Complaint Counsel first contacted PPP concerning its subpoena response on Monday, October 19. Id., ¶ 11; Ex. C. Counsel for PPP responded, representing she was unavailable until Thursday afternoon. Id., ¶ 12; Ex. C. To accommodate her availability, Complaint Counsel proposed a time for that afternoon. Id., ¶ 13; Ex. C. PPP's counsel did not respond so Complaint Counsel again followed up on Wednesday to confirm her availability. Id., ¶ 14; Ex. C. PPP's counsel was now no longer available the remainder of the week. Id.

A telephonic meet and confer was finally held on October 26. Id., ¶ 15. During the meet and confer, PPP's counsel was unprepared to answer questions about PPP's data sources or retention policies. Id. PPP had not even determined relevant sources or custodians to discuss on the call. Id. Notwithstanding the inability to engage meaningfully on those issues, Complaint Counsel agreed to numerous limitations to facilitate the production of responsive material. Id., ¶ 16. PPP's counsel indicated that she would speak with her client either the same day or the following day and agreed to respond by October 28. Id., ¶ 17. Complaint Counsel subsequently memorialized the substance of the meet and confer, along with proposing a rolling production schedule, in a follow-up letter on October 27. Id., Ex. D. PPP failed to respond as promised. Id., ¶ 19; Ex. C. PPP continued to engage in a similar dilatory pattern of not responding or being unavailable. See id.

Complaint Counsel consequently filed a motion to compel PPP to comply with its discovery obligations with the Court on November 6. On Friday, November 20, the Court determined that Rule 3.38 does not “authorize[] an order compelling a nonparty to comply with a subpoena” but recognized that, if good faith efforts to meet and confer reached an impasse, Complaint Counsel could file “a motion to certify to the Commission a request that court enforcement of the subpoena be sought, pursuant to Rule 3.38(c).”

Complaint Counsel immediately reached out to PPP the following Monday morning, asking about PPP’s position on the proposed production schedule and requesting a meet and confer. Id., ¶ 21; Ex. H. PPP did not respond. Id. Complaint Counsel again contacted PPP’s Counsel on Friday, December 4. Id. PPP again did not respond. Id. Complaint Counsel is at an impasse, having exhausted efforts to try to meet and confer with an unwilling and uncooperative subpoena recipient. It is clear that PPP has no intent to comply with its subpoena obligations. As a result, Complaint Counsel requests the Court’s intervention, certifying and recommending to the Commission that district court enforcement of the subpoena be sought.

II. Legal Standard

As the Court explained in its November 20 order, Rule 3.38(c) states that “in instances where a nonparty fails to comply with a subpoena or order, [the ALJ] shall certify to the Commission a request that court enforcement of the subpoena or order be sought.” Order at 5 (citing 16 C.F.R. § 3.38(c)); see also In re Axon Enter., Inc., No. 9389, 2020 WL 5543022, at *3 (Sept. 4, 2020) (certifying request where recipient failed and refused to comply with the subpoena).

Administrative Rule §3.34(b) provides that a subpoena may issue “commanding a person to produce and permit inspection and copying of designated books, documents, or tangible things.” The Rule further states that the subpoena “shall specify with reasonable particularity the material to be produced.” Pursuant to Rule 3.31(c), parties may obtain discovery to the extent that it may be reasonably expected to yield information relevant to the allegations of the complaint, to the proposed relief, or to the defenses of any respondent. 16 C.F.R. § 3.31(c). Here, the requests are not indefinite and are relevant to the allegations of the complaint, the proposed relief, and any defenses. See also United States v. Morton Salt Co., 338 U.S. 632, 652 (1950).

III. PPP Has Refused to Comply with the Subpoena *Duces Tecum

The record demonstrates that, to date, PPP has failed and refuses to comply with a duly-issued subpoena. PPP does so, even though it has acknowledged that it has responsive documents and information. The subpoena requests are specific and describe with reasonable particularity the documents requested, which are relevant to the claims made in the Complaint as well as Respondents' defenses and the proposed relief.

The RFPs, for example, seek documents sufficient to show the relationship with Respondents as well as any related agreements or payments (RFPs 1-3); advertisements and related documents concerning their creation, development, and review (RFPs 4-5); the dissemination of the advertisements (RFP 6); additional representations and communications relating to the claims in the advertisements (RFPs 7-9); complaints and communications relating to the FTC (RFPs 10-11); and documents sufficient to show the relevant employees and third parties with responsibilities relating to the advertising and relationship with Respondents (RFP 12). See Widor Dec., Ex. B. These discovery requests are relevant to the allegations in this case, including that misrepresentations were made (in the advertising and the websites and phone numbers listed on the ads and at sale sites); any substantiation or information calling into question the claims; their dissemination; the existence of consumer injury; materiality; and knowledge and intent. The requests—a number of which are limited to documents sufficient to show—are not burdensome and the information is readily available to PPP. Indeed, PPP’s counsel even acknowledged that a number of the requests were “self-explanatory.” See Widor Decl., Ex. B.

Additionally, these requests are relevant from PPP because the requested “non-party documents may lead to information about the relationships of the parties, which may be relevant to determining liability or drafting an appropriate remedy.” See, e.g., In re Basic Research, LLC, Docket No. 9318, 2004 FTC Lexis 272 (Aug. 18, 2004). Besides PPP’s involvement in assisting Respondents with the advertising and promotional materials, the evidence suggests numerous connections with Respondents, including that Respondent Jeansonne is a manager of PPP and that the registered agent of PPP is a key employee of Respondent Traffic Jam Events. See Widor Decl., Exs. F-G.

Besides engaging in a series of dilatory tactics to abuse the discovery and meet and confer process, PPP previously raised numerous unsubstantiated objections that lack in legal and factual support. In particular, PPP objected that the requests seek confidential or proprietary information, notwithstanding the existence of the Court’s Protective Order. Widor Decl., Ex. B. (Obj. 2); see In re La. Real Estate Appraisers Bd., Docket No. 9374 (FTC Jan. 3, 2018) (rejecting similar argument). PPP raised a burden argument because the subpoena purportedly does not specify a timeframe. Widor Decl., Ex. B. (Obj. 4). The subpoena however specifically instructed that the timeframe is January 1, 2015 to the present. See Id., Ex. A (Instruction 1). PPP then objected to the extent the subpoena was “vague, overly broad, and ambiguous, and inadequate arrangements have been made to reimburse PPP for its expenses in complying with the subpoena.” Id., Ex. B. (Obj. 5). PPP has failed to provide any specific support for this objection, and it is well established that third party recipients generally are expected to bear the burden of the costs of discovery. See, e.g., Order Denying Non-Party Great-West Healthcare's Motion for Cost Reimbursement, In re Evanston Northwestern Healthcare Corp., Docket No. 9315 (July 7, 2004). PPP also raised privilege objections though it failed to provide a privilege log as required by Rule 3.38A. Widor Decl., Ex. B. (Obj. 6). PPP further objected to producing electronically stored information, even though as discussed above, PPP had not even identified relevant sources, custodians, or retention policies, Id., Ex. B. (Obj. 7), and Complaint Counsel had since agreed to narrow the scope of the electronic search. See Id., Ex. D.

In its response to Complaint Counsel's motion to compel, PPP also objected—for the first time—that the documents may be obtained more conveniently from Respondents. PPP waived this objection by failing to raise it when its response was due or during the conference regarding PPP's reasons for failing to respond. PPP, however, is likely to have relevant, non-duplicative documents that are not in the custody of Respondents because third-party printers have reported to Complaint Counsel that they dealt directly with PPP and not Respondents. See Widor Decl., ¶ 22. Moreover, Respondents have produced nearly no documents, have represented they do not intend to comply with discovery, and have even claimed that no contract or agreement exists with respect to PPP. See id. ¶ 23; see also Fair v. Commc'ns Unlimited Inc., 2019 WL 227982, at *3, *5 (E.D. Mo. Jan. 16, 2019) (rejecting convenience argument where, in part, defendant repeatedly refused to produce documents).

IV. Conclusion

For the foregoing reasons, the Court should certify to the Commission a request that the Commission seek federal court enforcement of the PPP subpoena.

Respectfully submitted,

SEPARATE MEET AND CONFER STATEMENT

Consistent with this Court's Scheduling Order, Complaint Counsel, Sanya Shahrabi and Thomas Widor, along with paralegal Eleni Broadwell, met and conferred by telephone on October 26, 2020 with counsel, Lisa Bachman, for subpoena recipient Platinum Plus Printing, LLC ("PPP") in a good faith effort to resolve the discovery disputes that are the subject of Complaint Counsel's Motion to Certify to the Commission a Request Seeking Court Enforcement of a Subpoena Duces Tecum Issued to Platinum Plus Printing, LLC ("Motion"). Complaint Counsel repeatedly has sought to confer with PPP's counsel via email, including on October 19, 21, 27, 30 and November 2, and 5, 2020. PPP, however, has failed to engage in good faith efforts to meet and confer or to agree to produce any responsive materials. Following the Court's November 20 order, Complaint Counsel again sought to meet and confer with PPP contacting PPP's counsel on November 23 as well as December 4. PPP has simply ignored those efforts and refused to respond. Consequently, Complaint Counsel is at an impasse and is unable to resolve the disputes that are the subject of the Motion via agreement.

Docket No. 9395

PROTECTIVE ORDER GOVERNING CONFIDENTIAL MATERIAL

Commission Rule 3.31(d) states: “In order to protect the parties and third parties against improper use and disclosure of confidential information, the Administrative Law Judge shall issue a protective order as set forth in the appendix to this section.” Pursuant to Commission Rule 3.31(d), the protective order set forth in the appendix to that section is attached verbatim as Attachment A and is hereby issued.

ORDERED:

D. Michael Chappell
Chief Administrative Law Judge

Date: August 11, 2020

ATTACHMENT A

For the purpose of protecting the interests of the parties and third parties in the above-captioned matter against improper use and disclosure of confidential information submitted or produced in connection with this matter:

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT this Protective Order Governing Confidential Material (“Protective Order”) shall govern the handling of all Discovery Material, as hereafter defined.

1. As used in this Order, “confidential material” shall refer to any document or portion thereof that contains privileged, competitively sensitive information, or sensitive personal information. “Sensitive personal information” shall refer to, but shall not be limited to, an individual’s Social Security number, taxpayer identification number, financial account number, credit card or debit card number, driver’s license number, state-issued identification number, passport number, date of birth (other than year), and any sensitive health information identifiable by individual, such as an individual’s medical records. “Document” shall refer to any discoverable writing, recording, transcript of oral testimony, or electronically stored information in the possession of a party or a third party. “Commission” shall refer to the Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”), or any of its employees, agents, attorneys, and all other persons acting on its behalf, excluding persons retained as consultants or experts for purposes of this proceeding.
2. Any document or portion thereof submitted by a respondent or a third party during a Federal Trade Commission investigation or during the course of this proceeding that is entitled to confidentiality under the Federal Trade Commission Act, or any regulation, interpretation, or precedent concerning documents in the possession of the Commission, as well as any information taken from any portion of such document, shall be treated as confidential material for purposes of this Order. The identity of a third party submitting such confidential material shall also be treated as confidential material for the purposes of this Order where the submitter has requested such confidential treatment.
3. The parties and any third parties, in complying with informal discovery requests, disclosure requirements, or discovery demands in this proceeding may designate any responsive document or portion thereof as confidential material, including documents obtained by them from third parties pursuant to discovery or as otherwise obtained.
4. The parties, in conducting discovery from third parties, shall provide to each third party a copy of this Order so as to inform each such third party of his, her, or its rights herein.
5. A designation of confidentiality shall constitute a representation in good faith and after careful determination that the material is not reasonably believed to be already in the public domain and that counsel believes the material so designated constitutes confidential material as defined in Paragraph 1 of this Order.

6. Material may be designated as confidential by placing on or affixing to the document containing such material (in such manner as will not interfere with the legibility thereof), or if an entire folder or box of documents is confidential by placing or affixing to that folder or box, the designation “CONFIDENTIAL – FTC Docket No. 9395” or any other appropriate notice that identifies this proceeding, together with an indication of the portion or portions of the document considered to be confidential material. Confidential information contained in electronic documents may also be designated as confidential by placing the designation “CONFIDENTIAL – FTC Docket No. 9395” or any other appropriate notice that identifies this proceeding, on the face of the CD or DVD or other medium on which the document is produced. Masked or otherwise redacted copies of documents may be produced where the portions deleted contain privileged matter, provided that the copy produced shall indicate at the appropriate point that portions have been deleted and the reasons therefor.

7. Confidential material shall be disclosed only to: (a) the Administrative Law Judge presiding over this proceeding, personnel assisting the Administrative Law Judge, the Commission and its employees, and personnel retained by the Commission as experts or consultants for this proceeding; (b) judges and other court personnel of any court having jurisdiction over any appellate proceedings involving this matter; (c) outside counsel of record for any respondent, their associated attorneys and other employees of their law firm(s), provided they are not employees of a respondent; (d) anyone retained to assist outside counsel in the preparation or hearing of this proceeding including consultants, provided they are not affiliated in any way with a respondent and have signed an agreement to abide by the terms of the protective order; and (e) any witness or deponent who may have authored or received the information in question.

8. Disclosure of confidential material to any person described in Paragraph 7 of this Order shall be only for the purposes of the preparation and hearing of this proceeding, or any appeal therefrom, and for no other purpose whatsoever, provided, however, that the Commission may, subject to taking appropriate steps to preserve the confidentiality of such material, use or disclose confidential material as provided by its Rules of Practice; sections 6(f) and 21 of the Federal Trade Commission Act; or any other legal obligation imposed upon the Commission.

9. In the event that any confidential material is contained in any pleading, motion, exhibit or other paper filed or to be filed with the Secretary of the Commission, the Secretary shall be so informed by the Party filing such papers, and such papers shall be filed in camera. To the extent that such material was originally submitted by a third party, the party including the materials in its papers shall immediately notify the submitter of such inclusion. Confidential material contained in the papers shall continue to have in camera treatment until further order of the Administrative Law Judge, provided, however, that such papers may be furnished to persons or entities who may receive confidential material pursuant to Paragraphs 7 or 8. Upon or after filing any paper containing confidential material, the filing party shall file on the public record a duplicate copy of the paper that does not reveal confidential material. Further, if the protection for any such material expires, a party may file on the public record a duplicate copy which also contains the formerly protected material.

10. If counsel plans to introduce into evidence at the hearing any document or transcript containing confidential material produced by another party or by a third party, they shall provide advance notice to the other party or third party for purposes of allowing that party to seek an order that the document or transcript be granted in camera treatment. If that party wishes in camera treatment for the document or transcript, the party shall file an appropriate motion with the Administrative Law Judge within 5 days after it receives such notice. Except where such an order is granted, all documents and transcripts shall be part of the public record. Where in camera treatment is granted, a duplicate copy of such document or transcript with the confidential material deleted therefrom may be placed on the public record.

11. If any party receives a discovery request in any investigation or in any other proceeding or matter that may require the disclosure of confidential material submitted by another party or third party, the recipient of the discovery request shall promptly notify the submitter of receipt of such request. Unless a shorter time is mandated by an order of a court, such notification shall be in writing and be received by the submitter at least 10 business days before production, and shall include a copy of this Protective Order and a cover letter that will apprise the submitter of its rights hereunder. Nothing herein shall be construed as requiring the recipient of the discovery request or anyone else covered by this Order to challenge or appeal any order requiring production of confidential material, to subject itself to any penalties for non-compliance with any such order, or to seek any relief from the Administrative Law Judge or the Commission. The recipient shall not oppose the submitter's efforts to challenge the disclosure of confidential material. In addition, nothing herein shall limit the applicability of Rule 4.11(e) of the Commission's Rules of Practice, 16 CFR 4.11(e), to discovery requests in another proceeding that are directed to the Commission.

12. At the time that any consultant or other person retained to assist counsel in the preparation of this action concludes participation in the action, such person shall return to counsel all copies of documents or portions thereof designated confidential that are in the possession of such person, together with all notes, memoranda or other papers containing confidential information. At the conclusion of this proceeding, including the exhaustion of judicial review, the parties shall return documents obtained in this action to their submitters, provided, however, that the Commission's obligation to return documents shall be governed by the provisions of Rule 4.12 of the Rules of Practice, 16 CFR 4.12.

13. The provisions of this Protective Order, insofar as they restrict the communication and use of confidential discovery material, shall, without written permission of the submitter or further order of the Commission, continue to be binding after the conclusion of this proceeding.

Docket Number: 9395

Dear Ms. Broadwell:

Our firm has been retained to represent Platinum Plus Printing, LLC (PPP) with regard to the recent subpoena served by the Federal Trade Commission on September 10, 2020 concerning the above-referenced matter. Please accept this letter as a formal response and objection to the subpoena.

1. PPP objects to the subpoena to the extent it seeks to impose obligations greater than or different from the obligations imposed by 16 C.F.R. § 3.34(b).
2. PPP objects to the subpoena to the extent it seeks confidential, proprietary, or trade secret information.
3. PPP objects to the subpoena to the extent it seeks to impose an obligation to obtain responsive documents or information from third parties over whom PPP has no control.
4. PPP objects to the subpoena to the extent it is overly broad and burdensome in that it does not specify a timeframe for which the information is requested.
5. PPP objects to the subpoena to the extent it is vague, overly broad, and ambiguous, and inadequate arrangements have been made to reimburse PPP for its expenses in complying with the subpoena.
6. PPP objects to the subpoena to the extent it seeks information which is protected from disclosure by any applicable privileges and protections, including but not limited to, the attorney-client privilege and work product doctrine.

October 13, 2020

7. PPP objects to the subpoena to the extent it purports to require PPP to produce electronic documents or data that are not reasonably accessible or no longer exist due to PPP's electronic document retention policy.
8. PPP objects to the subpoena to the extent it seeks confidential and private customer/member information protected by statutory and/or common law rights of privacy.
9. PPP objects to the subpoena to the extent it seeks irrelevant information that will not reasonably lead to the discovery of admissible evidence in this action.
10. PPP objects to the subpoena to the extent it seeks to require PPP to create documents that do not presently exist.
11. PPP reserves the right to assert additional general and specific objections as appropriate and to supplement these objections.

Subject to, and without waiving, the foregoing objections, PPP is willing to meet and confer regarding the scope of your requests for documents. In that regard, please contact me to discuss this matter.

Sincerely,

Ms. Bachman,

If your client makes a good faith production of the requested documents by 4pm EST, we are willing to delay the need to file a motion to compel. Your client has not been proceeding in good faith with either their discovery responses or meet and confer obligations, and we have no reason to believe further delay will result in an agreement. Your current request for an extension does not even suggest now that your client will agree to produce anything.

Your client has known about these requests for nearly two months. We finally met and conferred almost two weeks ago, last Monday, and proposed a production schedule to which we have yet to receive a response (notwithstanding your representation to do so last week). Each and every week, there has been a new excuse to avoid and delay.

With respect to the responses to Requests for Production Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 12 that we are requesting by today, you indicated during the meet and confer that these were straightforward. At this point, it is not credible to assert that your client has not had sufficient time to consider the requests and undertake efforts to comply with its legal obligations.

Tom W.

Mr. Widor,

I have been in an arbitration hearing all week and have not had a chance to follow up with my client representative. I would appreciate the courtesy of a short extension as you have requested a significant amount of information and a deadline of 4pm tomorrow under the current circumstances is simply not reasonable.

In that regard, please advise as to whether you will a short extension to Monday (11/9) in which to provide a response and/or file your intended motion to compel.

Thank you.

Ms. Bachman,

As we still have not heard from you and have not received any documents as discussed during last week's meet and confer or laid out in our follow-up letter, we intend to file a motion to compel tomorrow. Similar to our proposal in the letter, we are willing to forego filing if your client agrees to produce documents responsive to RFP Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 12 by 4pm EST tomorrow (which we previously requested by Wednesday), RFP Nos. 4, 6, and 11 no later than November, 11, 2020, and the remaining RFPS no later than November 20, 2020.

DATE: October 27, 2020

RE: In re Traffic Jam Events, LLC et al., D9395

Ms. Bachman,

Thank you for taking the time to meet and confer on October 27, 2020, regarding the Subpoena Duces Tucem issued to Platinum Plus Printing, LLC on September 10, 2020. In its written response dated October 13, 2020, Platinum Plus Printing asserted ten general objections to the Subpoena and did not produce any responsive materials to any of the requests for production ("RFP"). During our meet and confer yesterday, you represented that your client would be willing to produce documents on a rolling basis subject to some modifications. This letter summarizes our telephonic meet-and-confer held yesterday, organized by document request.

RFP No. 1: To date, Platinum Plus Printing has not produced any materials responsive to RFP No. 1. Based on our conversation, you indicated that this request was self-explanatory. As we discussed, this request seeks corporate governance documents sufficient to show corporate structure, ownership, officers, and directors of the Platinum Plus Printing as well as any relationship with Respondents Traffic Jam Events, LLC or David Jeanson II (collectively Respondents).

RFP No. 2: RFP No. 2 requests documents sufficient to show any agreements with Respondents. As we discussed, this request also is self-explanatory and would encompass any materials reflecting any master agreements, memoranda of understanding, or other documents reflecting any formal or informal understandings between Platinum Plus Printing to either Respondent.

Ms. Lisa M. Bachmann
In re Traffic Jam Events, LLC et al., D9395

RFP No. 3: RFP No. 3 requests documents sufficient to show any payments from Respondents. We would be willing to accept a report or spreadsheet generated from an accounting or similar database to satisfy this request to the extent that it would show “each payment amount, the date of each payment, and the reason for the payment.”

RFP No. 4: RFP No. 4 requests documents sufficient to shows all products and services, including any Advertising and Promotional Material created, developed, disseminated, printed, or provided for or on behalf of Traffic Jam Events or its clients. As we discussed, we agree to accept a copy of each unique advertisement, even if the advertisement was modified to reflect different dealerships, offer terms, or sales dates for example. This request would also encompass any additional services, such as call centers, websites, or tent sale support. In each instance, Platinum Plus Printing should identify each dealership that used each unique advertisement, product, or service, and the dates during which it was disseminated or provided.

RFP Nos. 5, 7, 8, 9, 10: Platinum Plus Printing raised the concern that these requests may encompass custodians that were not involved in any substantive communications or other electronically stored information (“ESI”). We are willing to agree that Platinum Plus Printing may limit the relevant custodians to exclude personnel that are not likely to have any substantive communications concerning the subject matter of the advertisements or promotional materials or substantive communications with any consumers that received the advertisements or promotional materials.

RFP No. 6: As we discussed RFP No. 6 requests documents sufficient to show the consumers to which any products or services, including any advertisements or promotional materials, were disseminated. To the extent Platinum Plus Printing does not maintain formal dissemination schedules, we would request any documents identifying each consumer that received the product or service.

RFP No. 11: We do not fully understand Platinum Plus Printing’s relationship with Respondents, but, as we discussed, given the nature of the products and services, Platinum Plus Printing may not receive complaints directly or indirectly about any such advertising or promotional material. To the extent, it has received any such complaints, we would request their production consistent with RFP No. 11.

RFP No. 12: As we discussed, RFP No. 12 seeks documents sufficient to show any individuals with responsibilities relating to Respondents or their customers or their products or services. Company organizational charts and any job responsibility descriptions would likely satisfy this request.

We discussed how the discovery deadlines are very limited in this proceeding. To avoid the need for filing a motion to compel, we would request that Platinum Plus Printing produce documents responsive to RFP Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 12 no later than Wednesday, November 4, RFP Nos. 4, 6, and 11 no later than November, 11, 2020, and the remaining RFPS no later than

November 20, 2020. By October 29, 2020, please let us know if we misstated anything and if your client is agreeable to this rolling production schedule. If you have any questions or need additional information, you can reach me at twidor@ftc.gov or 202-326-3039.

Sincerely,

Thomas J. Widor

Ms. Bachman,

Following the Court's order, I'm writing concerning your client's position on the discovery requests and production schedule proposed in the October 27 letter following our meet and confer on October 26. I'm writing to ascertain any additional issues that we did not previously discuss with responding to the requests and what materials your client is willing to produce documents on a rolling basis. I've attached the letter we had sent summarizing that meet and confer, which also contains our proposed production schedule.

We would propose modifying the deadlines as follows:

- Friday, Dec. 4, 2020 -- Responses to RFP Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 12
- Monday, Dec. 14, 2020 – Responses to RFP Nos. 4, 6, and 11
- Wednesday, Dec. 23, 2020 – Responses to remaining RFPs.

We are available to meet and confer again Monday through Wednesday this week.
