Our CBD extract contains over 30 different types of terpenes, beneficial in preserving cell structure, while at the same time reducing systemic inflammation. Our PCR Rich cannabinoid extract seeks to mitigate the spread of cancer cells, focusing on cell mitosis reduction and the influence on neighbor cells.

Nothing But Extraordinary...

Coriolus Versicolor

How water extracted, our CBD-EX formulation contains beta-glucan polysaccharides from Coriolus Versicolor Mushroom (Turkey Tail) known to help modulate and stimulate the immune system. Coriolus contains two specific polysaccharides, PSK and PSP, that have been clinical studied and shown effective in regards to inhibiting the growth of cancerous cells.

Polysaccharide-K (PSK or krestin), found in the Trametes versicolor mushroom species has been directly linked to anti-tumor activity particularly in stomach, esophageal, lung and breast cancers.

Curcumin Extract

Clinically tested - curcumin has been examined and studied in a number of laboratory sets, and proven to be effective when combating cancer cells. In petrie dish studies, it has been able to kill cancer cells, as well as prevent additional cells from growing.

The most proven results have come in patients fighting against breast cancer, stomach cancer, and skin cancer cells. Effective in regards to animal cancer as well Curcumin is an effective inflammation reducing compound, safe for both cats and dogs.
