

Monday, June 5, 2006

ATTN: Federal Trade Commission

ORIGINAL

To Whom It May Concern;

I have been in direct sales for 9 years. It has helped my family to have financial comfort that I would not be able to provide with any other type of job because of time constraints. It has provided me with numerous interpersonal skills and I have made many friends by doing this. Isn't opportunity one of the principles that America was founded on? I urge you to reconsider this law as it is unfair to those of us who practice legitimate direct selling. It will cast direct sales in a negative light, lead to numerous bookkeeping /administrative problems and unnecessary delays in sales. I believe that the litigation reporting is also unfair in that it does not distinguish between those whom have won or lost lawsuits. It will bring identity theft / privacy issues to the forefront. The time spent finding the nearest 10 distributors is much better spent providing a service I believe. I understand and appreciate the FTC's goals, as I am certain that there are many fraudulent groups. I believe though, that this law will unfairly target those of us who practice fair, ethical business. Please don't penalize all of us for the unfair practices of some!

Thank You,
Lana Adams

A large, irregular black redaction mark covering the signature area.