

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
BEFORE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

In the Matter of

INTEL CORPORATION,

a corporation.

DOCKET NO. 9288

ORDER DENYING RESPONDENT INTEL CORPORATION'S APPLICATION TO STRIKE CONFIDENTIALITY DESIGNATION

WHEREAS Respondent Intel Corporation ("Intel") has moved, through its Application to Strike Confidentiality Designation, for an order striking the designation of certain discovery pleadings as confidential under the Protective Order Governing Discovery Material (Jul. 20, 1998), and

WHEREAS Complaint Counsel have shown, in their Opposition to Intel's Application to Strike Confidentiality Designation, that the discovery pleadings at issue have properly been designated as confidential, and that it is otherwise reasonable and proper to maintain the discovery pleadings at issue as confidential discovery material pursuant to the Protective Order.

NOW THEREFORE, it is ordered that Intel's Application to Strike Confidentiality Designation is DENIED

DATE December 28 1998

James P. Timony
Chief Administrative Law Judge