AN IMPORTANT HEALTH MESSAGE FROM THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

The Federal Trade Commission recently filed a lawsuit against the company selling Discreet home test kits and the company's owner. The FTC believes that the defendants misrepresented the accuracy of the results the Discreet test kits produced, and urges any consumer who relied on the results of a Discreet home test kit to see a health professional for further testing.

The FTC's suit against Seville Marketing, Ltd., the seller, and Gregory Stephen Wong, its owner, was filed in the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington in May 2004. In [month, year] defendants settled the lawsuit, without admitting liability. To protect the privacy of the individuals who bought the Discreet home test kit, the Court has ordered that information about their identity be kept confidential.
