Analysis of Proposed Consent Order To Aid Public Comment

The Federal Trade Commission has accepted an agreement, subject to final approval, to a proposed consent order from respondents Abovo, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation, and Susan L. Lakso, individually and as an officer of the corporation.

The proposed consent order has been placed on the public record for sixty (60) days for reception of comments by interested persons. Comments received during this period will become part of the public record. After sixty (60) days, the Commission will again review the agreement and the comments received and will decide whether it should withdraw from the agreement and take other appropriate action or make final the agreement's proposed order.

This matter concerns the advertising of the "Abovo Personal Communicating Device" ("Above PCD"), a communication aid for individuals with disabilities. The Commission's complaint charges that respondents' advertising contained false and unsubstantiated representations concerning the efficacy of this communication aid in enabling individuals with communication disabilities to communicate through facilitated communication. Facilitated communication is a technique that, among other things, entails an individual providing physical support to a person with a communication impairment, while that person types or points to a communication aid, such as the Abovo PCD.

Specifically, the complaint alleges that respondents falsely represented that the Abovo PCD enables autistic and mentally retarded individuals to communicate through facilitated communication. The complaint also alleges that the respondents lacked substantiation for its claim that the Abovo PCD enables individuals who are disabled as a result of apraxia, motor speech disorders, RETT Syndrome, stroke, tracheotomy, laryngeal cancer, traumatic brain injury, Alzheimer's disease, Parkinson's disease, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, and/or cerebral palsy to communicate through facilitated communication.

The proposed consent order contains provisions designed to remedy the violations charged and to prevent the respondents from engaging in similar acts and practices in the future.

Part I of the proposed order prohibits respondents from misrepresenting that any communication aid enables autistic or mentally retarded individuals to communicate through facilitated communication.

As fencing-in relief, Part II of the proposed order provides that, if respondents represent that a communication aid enables individuals with disabilities to communicate through facilitated communication, the representation must be true and respondents must possess competent and reliable scientific evidence that substantiates the representation. In addition, Part III of the proposed order prohibits respondents from representing the performance or attributes of a communication aid unless they possess and rely upon competent and reliable evidence, which when appropriate must be competent and reliable scientific evidence, to substantiate the representation.

The proposed order also requires respondents to maintain materials relied upon to substantiate claims covered by the order; to provide a copy of the consent agreement to their employees involved in the preparation and placement of respondents' advertisements, or in communication with respondents' customers or prospective customers; to notify the Commission of any change in the corporate structure that might affect compliance with the order; to notify the Commission of certain changes in the business or employment of the named individual respondent; and to file one or more reports detailing compliance with the order.

The purpose of this analysis is to facilitate public comment on the proposed order. It is not intended to constitute an official interpretation of the agreement and proposed order or to modify in any way their terms.

Benjamin I. Berman,

Acting Secretary.
