Re: Hart-Scott-Rodino: "Ordinary Course of Business" Exemption

Dear Melea:

I am writing to confirm our telephone conversation of today's date in which you agreed that the following transaction would not be reportable by either seller or purchaser under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, codified at 15 U.S.C. § 18a:

Seller is a not-for-profit corporation organized for charitable purposes with over $1 billion in assets. Purchaser is a company, subject to the requirements of the Real Estate Investment Trust Act of 1960, as amended, with assets in excess of $100 million. Purchaser proposes to acquire one shopping center, consisting of the assignment of a ground lease and the transfer of adjacent land in fee simple, with accompanying improvements, for a total purchase amount of approximately $16,050,000.

It is my understanding from our conversation that this transaction will be exempt under the "ordinary course of business" exemption codified in 15 U.S.C. § 18a(c)(1), provided purchaser is a qualified real estate investment trust ("REIT") pursuant to the terms of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. This exemption applies to REITs even when the property they are purchasing is an income-producing shopping center and the seller is not selling the property in the ordinary course of its business.
