Re: Proposed Consent Order
In the Matter of Reed Elsevier and ChoicePoint, FTC File No. 081-0133

Dear Mr. Clark:

I would like to concur and reiterate the letter written and submitted to you by Mr. Terry Wright from Murray Detective Agency regarding the proposed consent order and acquisition of ChoicePoint by Reed Elsevier. I feel that Mr. Wright is quite concise when he states that:

"Our organization is comprised of investigators who provide critical services to government agencies, attorneys, state and US courts, and others. We rely extensively on services provided by both Reed Elsevier and ChoicePoint and their subsidiaries to assist us in serving these clients".

Over the past several years, there has been tremendous consolidation among providers of public records services. This proposed acquisition would further reduce competition in the industry. Although there are several providers of data services in the marketplace, they are resellers of data provided by the respondents.

The Commission's complaint found that this acquisition would be anticompetitive and a violation of antitrust law in the market for the sale of public records information to law enforcement agencies. The same effects would be felt in the market for sale of public records to the private sector."

In order to provide a complete and thorough investigation to my customer's, it is exceedingly important to have access to data from several suppliers during any investigation. Having limited resources reduce both the quality and quantity of information available and is likely to increase cost.

I also concur with Mr. Wright in urging that the Commission delay approval of this acquisition until respondents can divest themselves of public records services provided to private industry as well as to law enforcement.

Unless an appropriate remedy is offered, our firm and our clients will suffer irreparable harm. When competition is reduced, incentives for innovation are reduced, prices rise and service suffers.

Sincerely,

Ronda Godard
