To Whom it MAY concern:
~~Dear Mr. William Cunningham,~~

I left you a detail voice message, and I spoke to Mr. Jack Cunningham on the phone, the librarian over at the Library for the Federal Trade Commission. He gave me your phone number and email address.

Here is the my inquiry and proposal, instead of addressing all the details, you may want to read the email that was sent to me from Mr. Carlos Perales about a month ago below since he wants my assistance in this matter.

The bottom line is, I really hope you and the federal trade commission allow industry like Total Debt Services to continue their operations in helping people that are facing debts problems.

I know through experience, without Mr. Carlos Perales, and the Total Debts Service program, I wouldn't be able to get out of debt in the 1st place. It is crucial, and very important to have companies like Total Debts Services to continue to help people so they won't be force down the road of bankruptcy.

You know how it is my friend; unemployment, the current economy, Americans are beginning to borrow off of personal loans and credit cards to make ends meet

I will vote against the laws or legislations to propose or pass such laws to make it impossible for companies like Total Debt Services to continue helping people with debt related issues.

I know Mr. Perales wants me to provide you with answers to his questions below, however, I believe my voice in this and email has already stand out on its own without having to give you all the details of how Total debt Services had help me getting out of debt. Like I said, without them I will be going into deeper into debts.

The end results already exist, and the outcome is phenomenal, I'm debt free now, thanks to Mr. Carlos Perales and Total Debt Services, and I'm one of those clients that Mr. Perales from Total Debt Services helped.

Please don't allow this to happen by all means. If you have any questions, concerns, or comments, you may email me or call me at

Sincerely,

Andy Ho

Hello Andy,

I hope this email finds you well. I am writing because I am in need of your assistance. There are thousands of people out there that are in need of the same help that you once were. Due to some new rulemaking, we are facing a crossroad that may force people in debt down the road of bankruptcy. Debt settlement, as you know is a viable means to resolving unsecured debt without having to file for bankruptcy.

If our debt settlement program was the right option for you and you believe that this program works and will work for others that were in the same situation as yourself, then I need your help.

The Federal Trade Commission is proposing new laws that will make it impossible for our industry to continue helping people that are facing what you once faced. Please help to ensure that our company and companies like ours are available to assist those in need by submitting a letter to the FTC.

If you believe that Debt Settlement is a viable alternative to bankruptcy, please include the following information in your letter.

1. A description of the problem that you was struggling with and whether you considered bankruptcy;
2. The results that you were able to achieve with debt settlement;
3. A personal statements about how debt settlement helped you (past, present and future), including are you happy about avoiding bankruptcy;
4. A statements about how the company's consultants and customer service representatives treated and/or assisted you.
5. Personal plea or request that the FTC not regulate debettlement out of business as our companies provide a valuable benefit and service to people in need like yourself.
6. Please include your full name on your statement.

If you feel so inclined to take a stance for what is right, please mail your statement to:

Federal Trade Commission

Office of the Secretary, Room H-135 (Annex T)

600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW

Washington, DC 20580

Thank you for your support.

Kindest regards,

Carlos Perales
