To Whom it may Concern,

I recently heard that Trader Joes may come to Maine and establish a business on Marginal Way in Portland. I fully support Trader Joes expanding in to Maine. It is a wonderful business and Maine is a perfect market for the company. There are many health conscious people in Portland and I am confident that the business would thrive in this environment.

I have lived in other areas of the country where there were Trader Joes and I like the products and atmosphere of the company. I would love to see a Trade Joes located here in Maine.

Thank you for your consideration,

Jackie Sawyer
