

To: Federal Trade Commission

Re: Transatlantic RFID - Comment, Project No. P059106

To Whom It May Concern:

This RFID workshop and everything discussed are very interesting. We believe we can solve the problem with a controllable RFID.

Now, we are developing a new consumer controllable RFID tag or card (patent pending). The RFID tag or card can be controlled by consumer to disable and enable RFID function as many times as they want – anytime and anywhere. So, it is the best way to protect Consumer Privacy and Data Security.

Best Regards,

Denny Choi
denny@evatag.com