Dan Wallach
2210 Sheridan St
Houston, TX 77030

We will exceed any competitor's mortgage loan offer or pay $1,500 toward your closing.*

Dear Dan,

You have received this letter as a result of our relationship with the national credit bureaus. We were notified of your recent mortgage inquiry, and in a few short minutes, we would like to provide the opportunity for you to know with certainty that you are getting the most competitive offer for your mortgage.

Cendera Funding is a top tier mortgage bank based in Fort Worth, Texas. We have provided mortgage loan services for 14 years and are licensed in 11 states. We are sure you will enjoy working with a Texas-based mortgage bank where your loan is Processed, Underwritten, Closed and Funded all under the same roof.

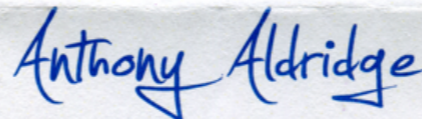

Accommodating your needs is our top priority. Loans can be closed in as little as 10 days if necessary, and can even be closed in your home or on a lunch break from work.

Cendera Funding Facts:

- 6th largest FHA lender in The Dallas Fort Worth market.
- 16th largest non-depository mortgage bank in Texas.
- 99.8 percent Excellent Rating on all closed loan client satisfaction surveys.
- We survey EVERY loan we close. Our performance is measured by your great experience.

We are available to speak with you 7 days a week. Please take a moment to call and speak to one of our loan officers today at 888.680.6775 or online: www.cenderafunding.com.

My team and I look forward to hearing from you. Here's to your prosperity!

Anthony Aldridge
Vice President of Sales
NMLS#: 271561

ANTHONY ALDRIDGE

*Best Offer Guarantee will be honored when we have a competing lender's offer dated the same date as the offer from Cendera Funding with an identical product offering, under comparable market conditions. Certain restrictions based upon lending area, and Government programs could apply. The Best Offer Guarantee applies to Conventional, FHA, VA and USDA loans only and that can be sold on a correspondent flow basis. This is a pre-screened offer of credit. To opt out of future correspondence you may write to Experian at: Experian Opt Out Request, P.O. Box 505, Woodlyn, PA 79094-0505 or call toll free at 1-888-567-8688.

Option #1: Search queries.

If a user is searching for a product, they might buy it.

The image shows a Google search interface for the query "nikon d800". The search bar contains the text "nikon d800" and a microphone icon. Below the search bar, navigation tabs for "Web", "Images", "Maps", "Shopping", "More", and "Search tools" are visible. The "Web" tab is selected. Below the navigation tabs, the search results summary indicates "60 personal results. 22,100,000 other results." A yellow box highlights the "Ads related to nikon d800" section. The first ad is from Ryther Camera, featuring the text "Nikon D800 $2679 1 (866) 983 2422" and "www.rythercamera.com/". The second ad is from Best Buy, featuring the text "Nikon D800 - BestBuy.com" and "www.bestbuy.com/".

The pitch

Measure Loyalty

Would you be interested to know how many new users scanned your codes and how many of them scanned them more than once? Now you can, we provide statistics table with both: unique and all return visitors.

Stay Informed

Can't get out of the mailbox?

We all know that emails are the best form of communication with people. Whether you're reading or writing another email you can still be informed about new codes being scanned.

Share Results

Your marketing campaign is doing well and you want to present results to your boss or a client. Instead of typing the numbers by yourself just use one of the “export” buttons to get what you want. Generate files in a variety of formats like XLS, TXT and PDF.

Is Apple Closing Off the iPhone to Rival Ad Networks?

APRIL 12, 2010 AT 2:35 PM PT

Tweet |

Share | Print

Is Apple, which just launched its own ad network, crippling competitors that want to sell ads on its iPhones and iPads?

That's how some competitors are interpreting a clause in the developer agreement Apple released last week when it announced the new operating system that will power its mobile devices.

They're concerned about language in the contract that seems to ban apps from transmitting data that third-party ad networks would use to track their ads' performance. If they're right, Apple's contract would severely handicap rival "in-app" ad networks—like Google's AdMob—without formally banning them.

"Ads don't exist without analytics," says a mobile ad executive. "Can't measure it, can't bill for it."

NebuAd, ISPs sued over DPI snooping, ad-targeting program

NebuAd and a number of ISPs find themselves on the wrong end of a class-action ...

by Jacqui Cheng - Nov 11 2008, 9:50pm CST

NebuAd, the company behind the highly-controversial behavioral-targeting ad platform, has been targeted itself—by a class-action lawsuit, that is. A suit has been filed in the US District Court of Northern California against the company, as well as a number of ISPs that tested NebuAd's technology, alleging numerous privacy violations, fraud, and unjust enrichment.

NebuAd made news earlier this year when it made a deal to test its deep-packet inspection technology with US cable operator Charter Communications. The idea behind the tech was that the companies would carefully monitor each user's Internet use in order to use that information to show highly-targeted advertising. Needless to say, there was an immediate and extreme outcry over the technology, with some going so far as referring to it as a "man-in-the-middle attack." Users could opt out—if they learned about the trial—but the tracking defaulted to automatic opt-in.

Questions arose as to whether NebuAd's system was even legal in the first place, as a number of advocacy groups criticized the service as an invasion of privacy and said it could even be violating federal wiretap laws. NebuAd, on the other hand, insisted to Congress that everything was on the up-and-up and that the system was collecting no personally-identifying information. Still, skeptics said that, identifying information or not, collecting data the way NebuAd does was in violation of state and federal laws.

The lawsuit accuses NebuAd, Bresnan Communications, Cable One, CenturyTel, Embarq, Knology, and WOW! of all being involved in the interception, copying, transmission, collection, storage, usage, and altering of private data from

Click fraud, etc.

Two advertising business models

Pay per view vs. pay per click

Serious incentives for fraud

Display ads to fake users or generate fake clicks \Rightarrow profit!

Caveat: Fraud pushes down the value of each click

Advertising services must protect themselves

Browser-side mechanisms (iframes, same-origin-policy)

Server-side mechanisms (big data analytics)

Lots of secrecy in how this works.

Privacy technologies

AdBlock Plus / Ghostery / etc.

Delete advertisements and trackers from every web page

The Wrong Way: Path Uploads iOS Users' Address Books Without Permission

CHRIS VELAZCO ✓

Comments

What started as a bit of aimless tinkering for developer Arun Thampi ultimately unearthed something very surprising about personal life-sharing service Path. As a fan of the app, Thampi took it upon himself to look at the API calls that the app made to Path's service and found that his "entire address book (including full names, emails and phone numbers) was being sent as a plist to Path."

Puzzled, Thampi created an entirely new Path and tried again, only to be faced with the same results. Feel free to try it for yourself if you're curious, as Thampi has written up the test procedures on his blog.

According to a comment left by Path co-founder and CEO Dave Morin, uploading the user's address book is meant simply to connect users with each other. As VentureBeat points out, this isn't exactly a secret — the practice is pointed out in the company's Wikipedia entry. Still, it's not exactly the easiest information to come across unless you're actively looking for it, especially when no mention of it is made during the initial sign-up process.

When asked why Path didn't give users the choice to opt-in right from the start, Morin responded with the following:

Smartphone security is tricky

When asked why Path didn't give users the choice to opt-in right from the start, [Path CEO] Morin responded with the following:

This is currently the industry best practice and the App Store guidelines do not specifically discuss contact information. However, as mentioned, we believe users need further transparency on how this works, so we've been proactively addressing this.
