MISSION CHALLENGES

The FTC stands prepared to face the challenges of today’s marketplace as a champion for consumers and competition. Many of the FTC’s challenges are defined by the conditions of the marketplace, and thus are ever changing. Selected agency mission challenges:

- Protecting consumer privacy and improving data security
- Stopping harmful uses of technology
- Promoting compliance in new media (e.g., viral, mobile, and affiliate marketing)
- Promoting competition in health care and pharmaceutical industries, high technology sectors, and energy industries.
- Protecting vulnerable Americans from fraud

STRATEGIC AND PERFORMANCE PLANNING OVERVIEW

FTC’s performance planning framework originates from the FTC’s FYs 2009 to 2014 Strategic Plan and an FY 2012 addendum. Our work is structured around three strategic goals and 13 objectives. Forty performance measures are used to gauge the success for each objective. Sixteen measures are considered “key” measures, as they best indicate whether the agency is achieving its desired outcomes. In FY 2012, the FTC met or exceeded 13 out of 16 key measures and 29 of 40 performance measures overall.
The FTC collects complaints about companies, business practices, and identity theft under the FTC Act and other laws we enforce or administer. Consumers may file complaints with the FTC Complaint Assistant.
