11 SUE HABERKORN

12 Breast Cancer survivor

13 SUE HABERKORN: Hi, I'm Sue, a recent breast
14 cancer survivor. While I was on chemo, I noticed that 15 I was having much more difficulty remembering ordinary 16 objects and names of people. I was having a real 17 brain fog, worse than normal senior moments. I had 18 been working with doctors to stay as healthy as I could 19 during the cancer treatment process. He suggested I try 20 Cognify to help with the chemo brain fog.

21 Less than two weeks after I started taking 22 the Cognify, I began to be able to remember the names
23 of places and people and things. I was just thinking
24 more clearly. I don't think I even realized how bad
25 the brain fog was until it started to lift. But I did

1 wonder if it was just because I was no longer on chemo
2 or if it was because I was taking the Cognify.

3 Then I went on vacation for some R&R and 4 stopped taking the Cognify. Literally, within one
5 day, I couldn't remember the names of simple objects.
6 Now I knew it really was the Cognify.

7 Thank you, Cognify, for lifting my brain
8 fog.
