T.A. Sciences® Founder & CEO, Noel Thomas Patton, explains how telomeres act like clocks within our cells, and shares insight on how to maintain healthy telomere length to keep them ticking at their best. Check out his article in Elephant Journal to learn more!

Understanding the Aging Clock within your Cells. www.elephantjournal.com

The good news is that there are ways that you can slow, stop or even reverse the telomere shortening that happens as we age.

Not only have age-related disorders been tied to shorter telomeres, but more and more research is showing how all kinds of illnesses and infections may be linked to them as well.

Telomere length linked to catching a cold in preliminary study

Test subjects with shorter immune cell telomeres faced an increased risk of catching a cold, researchers wrote Tuesday in JAMA (abstract here .)

What's the best way to know if TA-65 is working? Measure your shortest telomeres with a telomere-length test! Get tested before you start taking TA-65, and then retake the test 12-13 months later to see the growth!

We get this question all the time: What's the difference between taking TA-65 and taking some astragalus supplement from the health food store?

The answer? TA-65 is a single, rare molecule found in only one astragalus plant species' roots. And not all of those species' roots will have it; our lab sifts through a lot of plant material to find the molecule. Thus, when you're taking a capsule of TA-65, you're not merely taking an astragalus root extract; you're taking a very specific, very concentrated extract of one rare molecule in a very specific extract of one very specific kind of astragalus root.

It doesn't really matter what time of day you take your TA-65. Here are a few things our customers have reported to us:

Taking TA-65 in the morning: Customers have reported having more energy throughout the day, being more productive, and having more endurance.

Taking TA-65 at night: Customers have reported having more vivid dreams, remembering their dreams better, sleeping more restfully, dreaming more vividly, and having a more regulated sleep cycle.

October 31, 1969 - The Beatles: "Something" b/w "Come Together" (Apple R 5814) 45 single is released in the UK.

"Something" is a song by The Beatles, featured on their 1969 album Abbey Road. It was released that same year as a Double A-sided single with another track from the album, "Come Together". "Something" was the first Beatles song written by lead guitarist George Harrison to appear as an A-side, and the only song written by him to top the US charts while he was in the band. The single was also one of the first Beatles singles to contain tracks already available on an LP album.

John Lennon and Paul McCartney, the band's principal songwriters, both praised "Something" as one of the best songs Harrison had written, or that the group had to offer. As well as critical acclaim, the single achieved commercial success, topping the Billboard charts in the United States and making the top six in the United Kingdom. The song has been covered by over 150 artists.

TA-65md, a clinically-proven telomerase activator, is a naturally-occurring single molecule extracted from the root of an herb. TA-65md adds back base pairs of telomeric DNA that have been lost in the aging process. This lengthening of telomeres protects chromosomes from damage, essentially protecting the cells where telomerase is activated from age-related decline.
