Dear Mr. Aaron:

We received your submissions on behalf of your client, OMG, Inc. ("OMG"; formerly Olympic Manufacturing Group, Inc.). During our review, we discussed concerns regarding overly broad or outdated U.S.-origin claims for certain OMG products, including, but not limited to, certain Cortex deck screws and kits sold under the FastenMaster brand name.

In response to our inquiry, you stated that OMG implemented a remedial action plan to correct its representations and avoid future mislabeling. This plan includes: (1) removing U.S.-origin claims and updating packaging for products now sourced outside the United States; (2) re-labeling products containing imported raw materials as "Manufactured in the USA from globally sourced materials," where appropriate; (3) removing overly broad U.S.-origin claims from marketing materials; and (4) adopting compliance measures to ensure all future U.S.-origin claims comply with the FTC's Enforcement Policy Statement on U.S. Origin Claims.

Based on your actions and other factors, the staff has decided not to pursue this investigation any further. This action should not be construed as a determination that there was no violation of Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45. The Commission reserves the right to take such further action as the public interest may require. If you have any questions, you can reach me at (202) 326-2377.

Sincerely,
