

³ Liner: If material used in constructing the stowage compartment can be shown to meet the flammability requirements of a liner for a Class B cargo compartment (i.e., § 25.855 at amendment 25–116, and Appendix F, part I, paragraph (a)(2)(ii)), then no liner would be required for enclosed stowage compartments equal to or greater than 25 ft.³ but less than 57 ft.³ in interior volume. For all enclosed stowage compartments equal to or greater than 57 ft.³ in interior volume but less than or equal to 200 ft.³, a liner must be provided that meets the requirements of § 25.855 for a Class B cargo compartment.

⁴ Fire-Location Detector: If an OPSC has enclosed stowage compartments exceeding 25 ft.³ interior volume and that are located separately from the other stowage compartments (located, for example, away from one central location, such as the entry to the OPSC or a common area within the OPSC, where the other stowage compartments are), that OPSC would require additional fire-protection features or devices to assist the firefighter in determining the location of a fire.

Megan Gray, (202) 326–3408, mgray@ftc.gov, Attorney, Division of Enforcement, Bureau of Consumer Protection, Federal Trade Commission, Room CC–9541, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

The Commission issued the Guides for the Nursery Industry in 1979.¹ These Guides address numerous sales practices for outdoor plants, including deceptive claims regarding quantity, size, grade, kind, species, age, maturity, condition, vigor, hardiness, growth ability, price, and origin or place where grown. As part of its periodic regulatory review, the Commission substantively amended the Nursery Guides in 1994 and adopted a technical amendment to the Guides in 2007.²

II. Regulatory Review Program

The Commission periodically reviews all Commission rules and guides. These reviews seek information about the costs and benefits of the Commission’s rules and guides and their economic impact. The information obtained assists the Commission in identifying rules and guides that warrant modification or rescission. Therefore, the Commission solicits comment on, among other things, the economic impact of and the continuing need for its Nursery Guides; possible conflict between the Guides and state, local, federal, or international laws; and the effect of any technological, economic, environmental, or other industry changes on the Guides.

III. Request for Comment

The Commission is particularly interested in comments and supporting data on the following questions. These questions are designed to assist the public and should not be construed as a limitation on the issues on which public comment may be submitted. In their replies to each of these questions, commenters should provide any available evidence and data, such as empirical data, consumer perception studies, or consumer complaints, that support the commenter’s asserted position.

¹ Industry guides are administrative interpretations of laws administered by the Commission. 16 CFR 1.5.

² See 59 FR 64546 (December 14, 1994); 72 FR 902 (January 9, 2007).

(1) Is there a continuing need for the Nursery Guides as currently promulgated?

(2) Are any specific provisions of the Guides no longer necessary?

(3) Are the deceptive or unfair practices addressed by the Guides prevalent in the marketplace? Are the Guides effective in addressing those practices? Are there deceptive or unfair practices in the selling of plants that are not covered by the Guides, such as vegetable plants marketed to consumers? Should the Guides be extended to cover other types of plants that consumers purchase? Are there alternatives, such as individual enforcement actions under the FTC Act, that would be more effective or equally effective in addressing those practices?

(4) Have covered businesses adopted the Nursery Guides as part of their routine business practice? What is the degree of compliance with the Guides? How, and what effect, if any, does this have on the continuing need for the Guides? Do covered businesses self-regulate or have voluntary standards or guidance, such as through trade associations, that overlap with the Guides?

(5) What benefits, if any, have the Nursery Guides provided to consumers of the products affected by the Guides? Do the Guides impose any significant costs on consumers?

(6) What impact, if any, have the Guides had on the flow of truthful or deceptive information to consumers?

(7) What changes, if any, should be made to the Nursery Guides to increase their benefits to consumers or reduce their costs to businesses? How would these changes affect consumer benefits or business costs?

(8) What burdens or costs, including costs of compliance, have the Guides imposed on covered businesses? What burdens or costs have the Guides imposed on small businesses in particular? Have the Guides provided benefits to businesses? If so, what benefits?

(9) What changes, if any, should be made to the Guides to reduce the burdens or costs imposed on businesses? In particular, should the Commission eliminate Section 18.7 (Misrepresentation as to character of business)? Does this section imply that occupational licensing is a prerequisite for covered businesses? How would these changes affect the benefits provided by the Guides?

(10) Is it necessary to include reference works in the Note to Section 18.2? Are the reference works in the Note to Section 18.2 authoritative and readily and freely available to the public? If not, are there updated editions that are more authoritative and readily and freely available? Are there other works in the public domain that the Commission should consider in determining whether claims made for a covered plant's quality, size, grade, kind, species, age, maturity, condition, etc. are truthful and non-misleading? For example, do federal or state agricultural authorities provide guidance sufficient for the Commission, consumers, and covered businesses to determine whether claims made for covered products are truthful and non-misleading?

(11) Is it necessary to include the mention in the Note to Section 18.2 of "plant name lists periodically published by the plant societies and the horticultural organizations selected as international and national cultivar registration authorities as enumerated in Appendix of Naming and Registering New Cultivars?" Is the plant name list sufficiently specific to be useful to consumers or businesses? Can more specificity be provided as to which international and national cultivar registration authorities are relevant, and how to locate the Appendix of Naming and Registering New Cultivars?

(12) Should the Commission remove mentions of "industry recommendation" and "industry consensus" from the Notes to Sections 18.2 and 18.4? Should the Commission include in the Guides only its own views, consistent with the Guide's purpose of furthering the public interest in preventing deception?

(13) Do the Guides overlap or conflict with federal, state, or local laws or regulations? Do the Guides overlap or conflict with any international laws or regulations?

(14) Have consumer perceptions changed since the Guides were issued and, if so, do these changes warrant revising the Guides?

(15) Since the Guides were issued, what effects, if any, have changes in relevant technological, economic, or environmental conditions had on the need for or usefulness of the Guides?
