Subject: Question regarding affidavits and certification

Dear All,

We have a client that is hoping to file its HSR notification today. Under its corporate bylaws, the signature of two individuals is required to bind the company. As such, we are planning on having two officers sign the certification page. With respect to the affidavit required under 803.5, would it be acceptable to have the two officers sign a single affidavit which notes the dual signature requirement? Or would the preference be for two separate affidavits?

Thanks very much for your assistance.
