

Brenda Turner

July 15, 2006

Federal Trade Commission/Office of the Secretary, Room H-135 (Annex W)
Re: Business Opportunity Rule, R511993
600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20580

RE: Business Opportunity Rule, R511993

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am writing this letter because I am concerned about the proposed Business Opportunity Rule R511993. I believe that in its present form, it could prevent me from continuing as an Arbonne Independent Consultant. I understand that part of the FTC's responsibility is to protect the public from "unfair and deceptive acts or practices," but some areas of the proposed rule will make it very difficult, if not impossible, for me to sell Arbonne products and sponsor people into the business.

One of the most confusing and restrictive sections of the proposed rule is the 7-day waiting period to sign up new Consultants. Not only do Arbonne Starter Kits cost a nominal amount of money, the proposed waiting period gives the impression that there might be something wrong with the Arbonne opportunity. The majority who sign up with the Arbonne opportunity, do so to purchase products at a discount. Under this waiting period requirement, I will need to keep very detailed records when I first speak to someone about Arbonne and keep track of when to follow up. One of the key elements to my success in this business has been capturing the enthusiasm and immediate results prospects experience with Arbonne products; the waiting period would potentially limit my ability to grow my business. It would seem that if we are restricted with a "waiting period" that a traditional retailer would be required to the same rules.

The proposed rule also calls for the release of any information regarding lawsuits involving misrepresentation, or unfair or deceptive practices. It does not matter if the company was found innocent. A lawsuit may incorrectly imply wrongdoing and it seems unfair to disclose lawsuit information unless Arbonne has been found guilty of something. I fear being penalized by the impression a lawsuit would leave, even if I have done nothing wrong.

Finally, the proposed rule requires the disclosure of a minimum of 10 prior Independent Consultants nearest to the prospective Consultant. I am glad to provide references, but identity theft is a reality we live with in today's world and I am very uncomfortable with giving out personal information about individuals, without their permission or knowledge, to strangers. Also, sharing this information could damage the business relationship of references with those involved in other companies or businesses, or provide an unfair advantage to competitors. In order to get the proposed list of 10 prior Independent Consultants, I would need to send the address of a prospect to the Arbonne corporate office in California and then wait for the list. The proposed rule also includes the language, "If you buy a business opportunity from the seller, your contact information can be disclosed in the future to other buyers" and prospects will be understandably concerned about their privacy. I would find it an invasion of privacy to disclose personal data, for my business purposes.

I have been an Arbonne Independent Consultant for more than 3 years. I became a Consultant because I love the products and our family was in need of a second source of potential income. Since starting my Arbonne business, I have developed a team of over 700 Independent Consultants across the country and together we are helping our families enjoy better lives with the Arbonne products and the Arbonne opportunity. I am a single parent and in our country's economic state, it is nearly impossible to have a decent lifestyle on one income. Before becoming an Arbonne consultant, I worked two jobs to try to make ends meet. At that time, my school age daughter spent her time after school in daycare and in the evening spent her time with family members and friends. Since becoming an Arbonne consultant, I have been able to supplement my income from home and spend my time raising my daughter, as it should be. My goal is to help other mothers be able do the same.

I truly appreciate the work of the FTC in protecting consumers, however I believe this proposed new rule would have many detrimental (and unintentional) consequences and I hope there are alternative means to resolving the outstanding issues at hand, without harming the livelihood of millions of successful network marketers, like me.

Thank you for your time and understanding.

Sincerely,

Brenda Turner
Independent Consultant
Regional Vice President
Arbonne International