RE: Rule R511993

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am a distributor for Freelif International presently and having been in the networking marketing business for over 20 years as my PRIMARY income, the income and personal development that I have gained are without a doubt, is what I believed this country's freedom was built on-the freedom to build a business with integrity and personal development.

Without all due respect, I ask that you reconsider the support of this Rule. In my opinion it would take away the freedom for the little man. The little man should be permitted for trying to develop the concepts that has made this nation what it stands for today. I believe this could destroy my business and I am strongly opposed to this rule.

Again, please reconsider this Rule,

Sincerely,

Mark Kotler
