RE: 16 CFR Part 306; Automotive Fuel Ratings, Certification and Posting; Project No. R811005

To Whom It May Concern,

Any alcohol in our gasoline is and has been misguided, I suspect by the corn producers. It does not work. At 10% concentrations, it decreases my gas mileage by, wait for it, 10%! So exactly nothing is gained, and I am forced to use supplements to counteract the alcohol. So Stupid! It has a shelf life of a month or two, so long term storage is out of the question. Garbage all the way around, and higher food prices, to add insult to injury. The corn lobby ought to be ashamed.

Sincerely,
Carl Lincoln, OR
