

INTERPOL'S ROLE IN LAW ENFORCEMENT COLLABORATION

Africa Apollo

8-10 September 2014

Scope

- 1. Introduction (Priorities & core functions)
- 2. Operational databases and services
- 3. Integrated solutions to access INTERPOL's databases

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES

Secure Global Police
Information System I-24/7

Identification of Crimes
and Criminals

24/7 Operational Support

Capacity Building

INTERPOL's 4 core functions

1

Secure global police
communications
services

2

Operational data
Services and databases for
police

3

Operational police
support services

4

Police training
and development

I-24/7 NETWORK

COMMAND & COORDINATION CENTER

Planned

Operational databases and services

Notices and diffusions

Nominal

INTERPOL databases

DNA

SLTD - Stolen and lost travel documents

Fingerprints

SMV - Stolen motor vehicles

ICSE – Child Sexual Exploitation abuse images

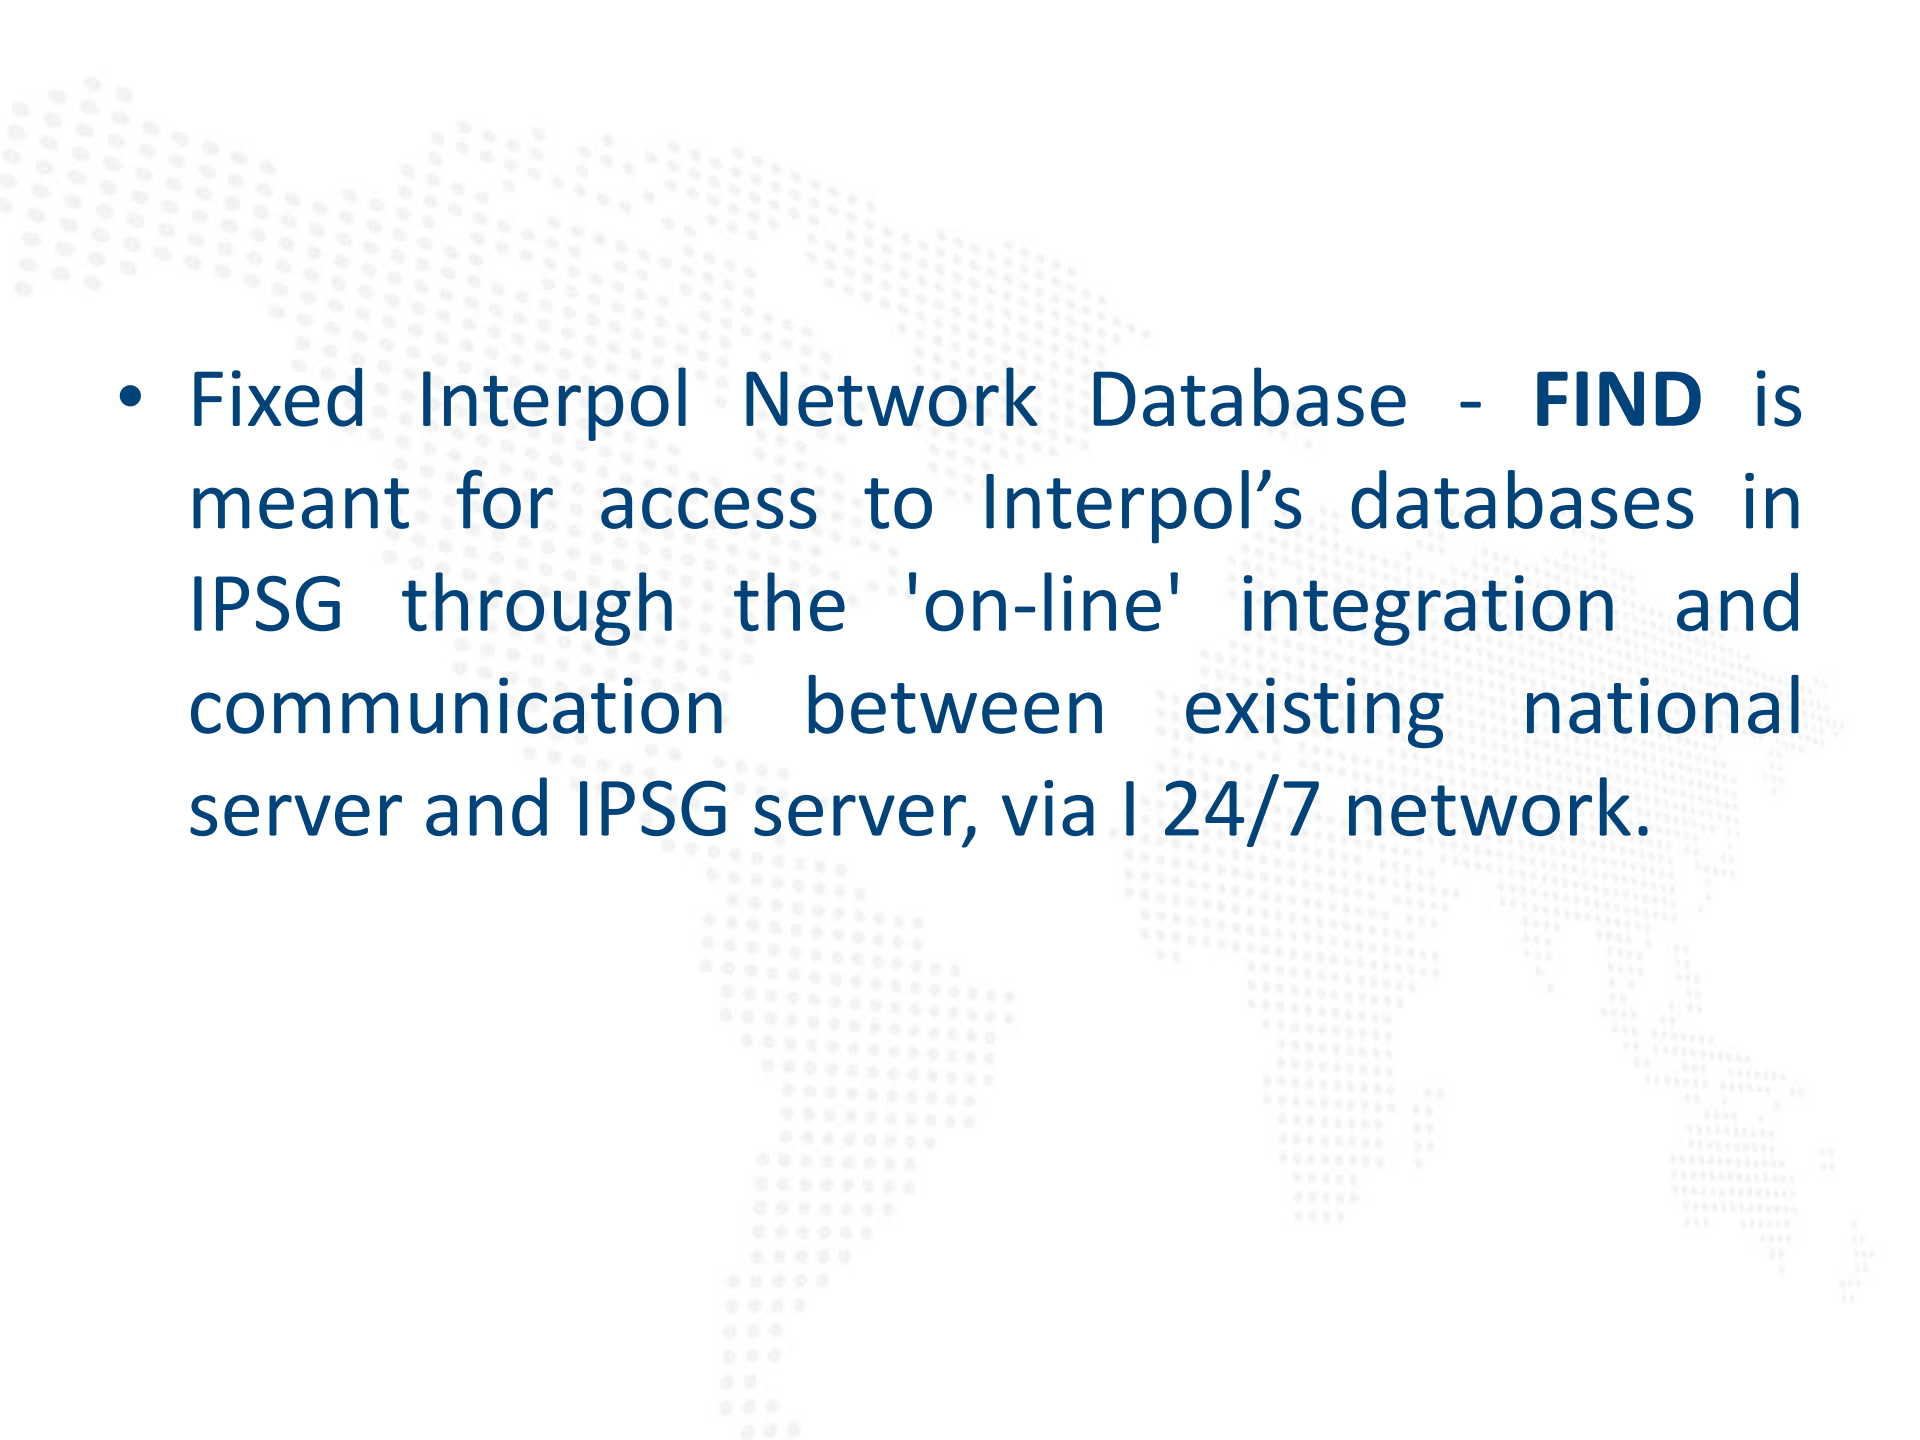

WOA - Stolen works of art

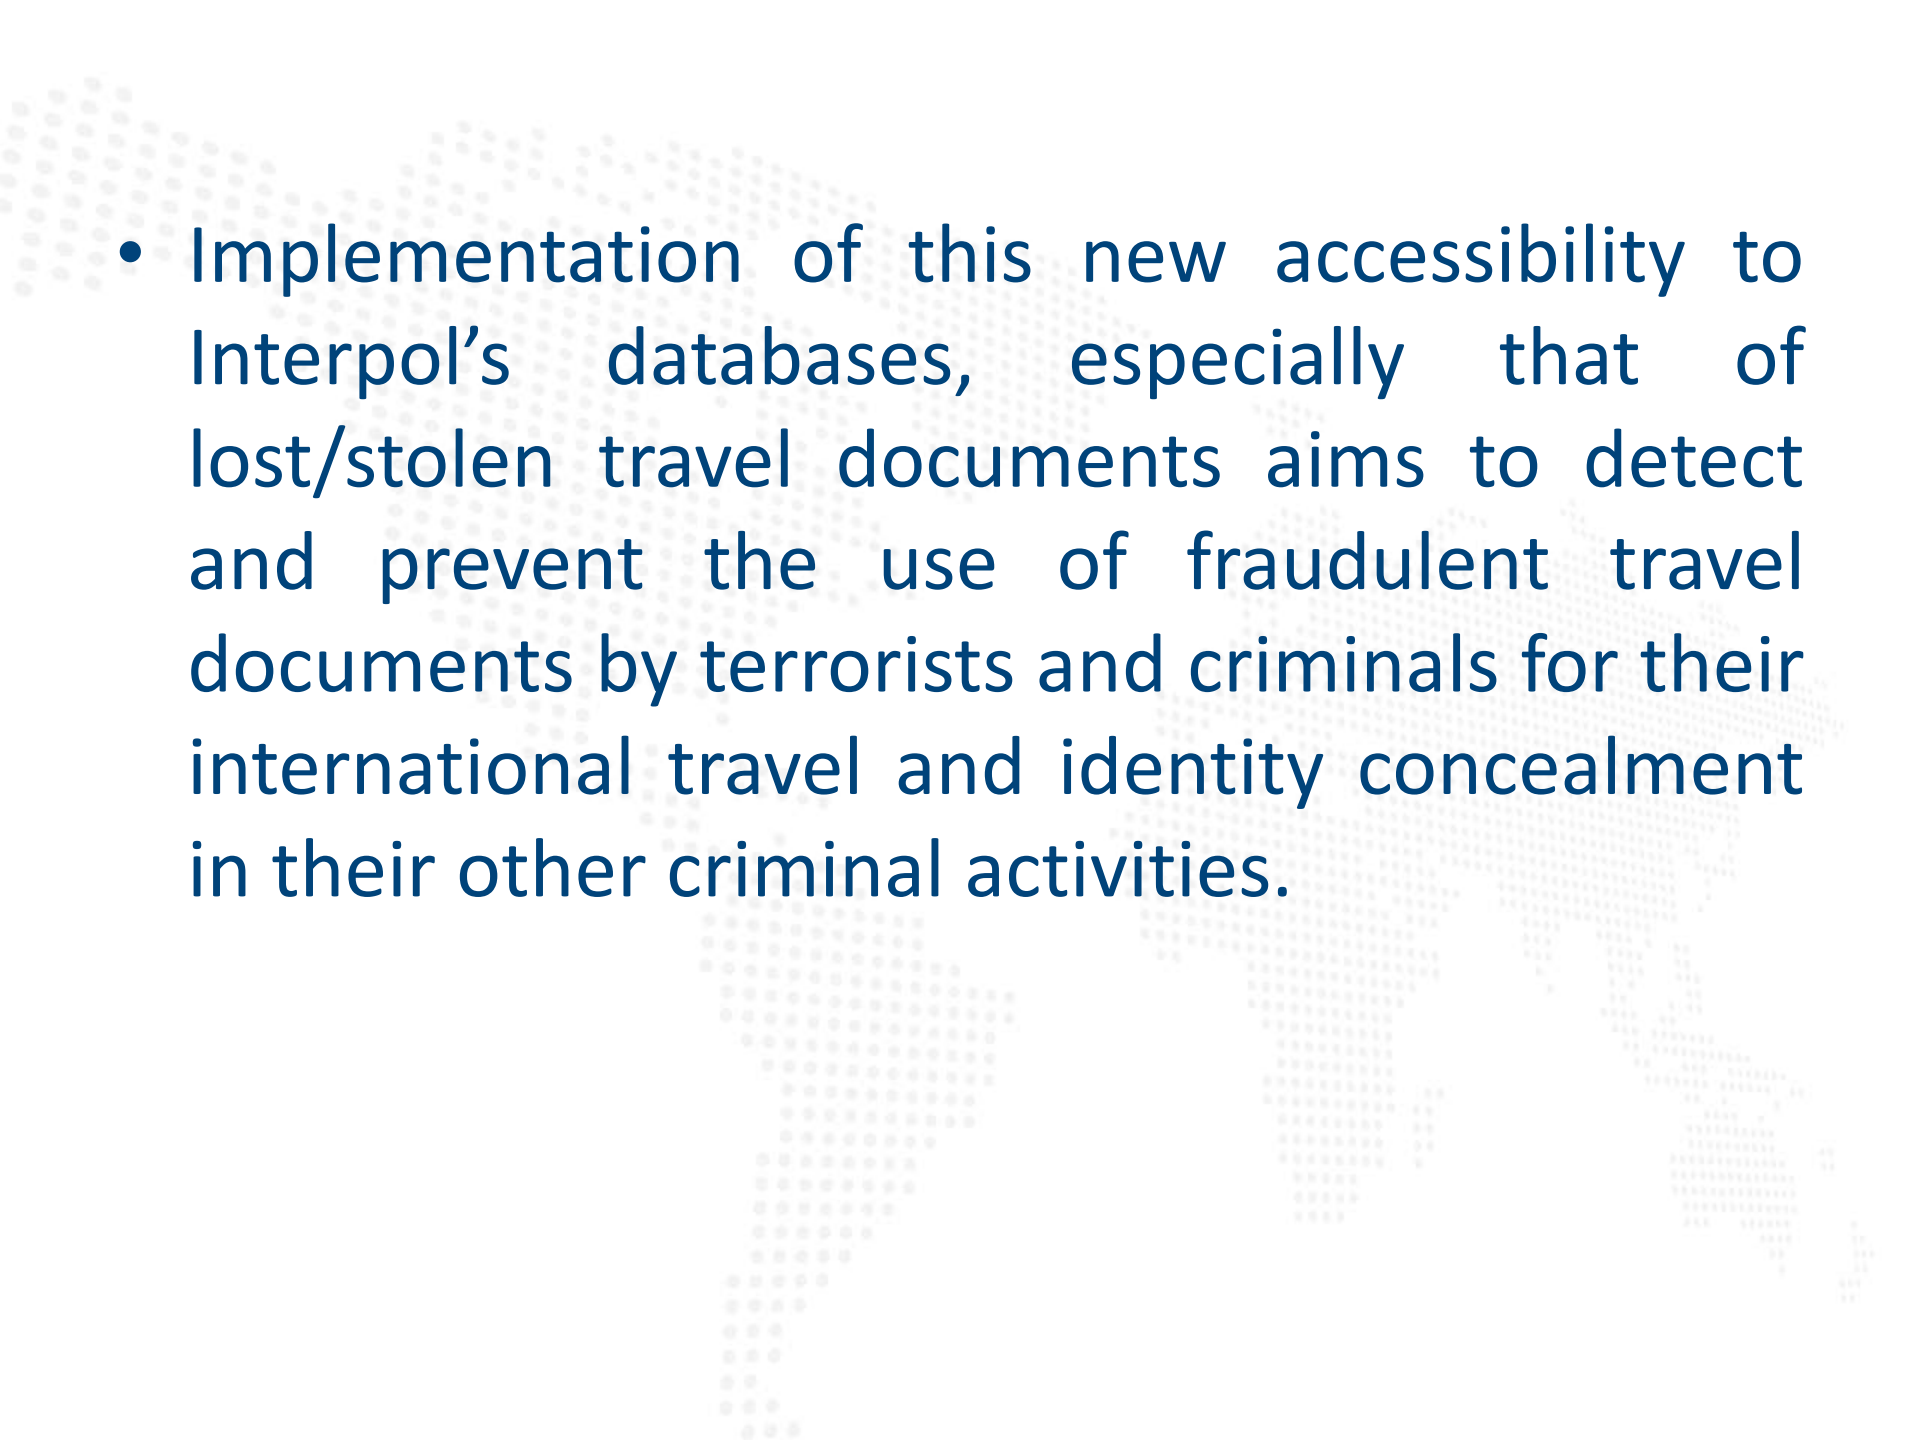

Integrated Solutions to Access Interpol's Databases – MIND/FIND.

- First-line control law enforcement agencies (border police, immigration) can get; reliable, accurate and up-to-date information related to lost/stolen travel documents, stolen motor vehicles and wanted criminals, in real-time and receive a near-instantaneous response from INTERPOL's I - 24/7

-
- Fixed Interpol Network Database - FIND is meant for access to Interpol's databases in IPSG through the 'on-line' integration and communication between existing national server and IPSG server, via I 24/7 network.

- MIND is meant for 'off-line' access to Interpol's databases on the national level for those countries that, from whatever reason, can not have the FIND.
- Using I 24/7 network, IPSPG provides a country Automated Search Facilities Data-Sets than can be accessed locally.
- MIND is entirely under IPSPG's control and IPSPG is responsible for updates of the data.

-
- Implementation of this new accessibility to Interpol's databases, especially that of lost/stolen travel documents aims to detect and prevent the use of fraudulent travel documents by terrorists and criminals for their international travel and identity concealment in their other criminal activities.

Crimes that may be watched in relation to consumer protection

- Counterfeit of goods,
- Trafficking/distribution of counterfeited goods with-in and outside the country of origin,
- Identity theft,...Stolen or forged travel docs...
- Fraud schemes (telephone, internet,),
- Money (other proceeds) laundering,
- Most of all other cross-border crimes (vehicle theft, human movement related crimes, ...)

INTERPOL National Central Bureaus - NCBs

INTERPOL Notices and Diffusions

Wanted persons

Seeking additional information

Warnings about known criminals

Missing persons

Unidentified bodies

Special INTERPOL-UN Security Council

Warnings of threats

+ Diffusions

Thank you

