

Statement of Commissioner Terrell McSweeney

October 19, 2017

“I want to congratulate both Joe Simons and Rohit Chopra on their nominations to serve on the Federal Trade Commission. I am pleased that the FTC is gaining two talented and dedicated individuals. The FTC is our nation’s premier competition and consumer protection enforcer, and serving as a Commissioner is a great honor and great responsibility. I know they will help continue the Commission’s important work promoting a fair and competitive marketplace, protecting consumers from scams and frauds, and safeguarding consumer privacy and data security.”
